SOME DESCENDANTS OF ABRAHAM DAINS AND SARAH PEAKE
Compiled by Sabria Palmer Lamb of Detroit, Michigan.
Detroit 27, Mich., 17555 Woodmanor Road Wm Palmer

First Generation

ABRAHAM DAINS or Daynes. The genealogy of this line of the writer's family begins with the marriage of Abraham Dains, or Daynes, and Sarah Peake at Canterbury, Connecticut on December 27, 1671. The first date given in Calkins' "History of New London" in connection with Abraham Dains is 1662. A further reference has the date of 1664. It seems court orders were published in that year prohibiting the use of "cardes and shufflebords" and warning the inhabitants "not to entertaine strange young men". Transient residents, who were not grantees and householders, were the persons affected by this order and it aroused them to the necessity of applying for permission to remain. Among the roll of applicants we find the name of Abraham Daynes. "All other sojourners not mentioned carrying themselves well were allowed to live in the town, else lyable upon warning to begone". It would seem that Abraham Dains was a newcomer in the town. A letter from the Connecticut State Library at Hartford states that Abraham Daynes of New London, 1664, is supposed to have come from Casco, Maine.

William Peake's residence in New London was west of the town plot on the path leading to Fog-Plain. The marriage of his daughter Sarah to Abraham Daynes is recorded in New London, as are also the births of some of his children. Other births are recorded in Norwich. The next several generations of the family seem to have lived in the region of the towns of Norwich, Canterbury, Plainfield and Washington in the counties of New London and Windham, Connecticut. Abraham Dains died before 1691, for his widow Sarah married Micah Rood, January 15, 1691.

Second Generation

EBENEZER DAINS (2), son of Abraham (1), was born October 27, 1680; married March 11, 1706/7, Mercy Ludington, born May 31, 1691. He and his wife were living at New Haven on May 2nd, 1739 when they sold land from their father's estate. On October 11, 1744 they were living in Scotland, Windham County, when they sold more land. In 1767 he was one of the eastern inhabitants of Canterbury, and voted for a division of Canterbury and Windham. He was a member of the church at Hampton, Connecticut, December 28, 1729.

EPHRAIM DAINS (2), son of Abraham (1), was born January 15, 1686; married Sarah Pasmouth in Norwich, Connecticut, April 30, 1708. She was the daughter of Richard Pasmouth of Norwich and was born in Norwich as were all of her children. The will of Ephraim, probated in Norwich, March 17, 1757, mentions his widow, the heirs of his son Abel, his sons Oxenbridge, James, Henry and Flavens, and his daughters, Sarah and Lydia. The sons are found among the inhabitants of the town of Norwich in the next generation, but the name was more frequently written Deans in the records of that time.

HENRY DAINS (3), son of Ephraim (2), was born January 28, 1720/21. The records of the First Congregational Church of Norwich state: "Henry Dains son of Ephraim was baptized Feb. 5, 1721. He was admitted to the church 1742". Henry went to Canterbury where his uncle Ebenezer was living, and there met and married Margaret Bates of Canterbury. Her parents are unknown, but it has been said that she was from Rhode Island. They were married, April 18, 1744. Margaret Bates Dains lived to the age of one hundred years. All of the children were born in Canterbury, except David who was born in Kent, where the family went in 1759. After the War of the Revolution they went on to Yates County, New York. All the children were Quakers except Ephraim.

Fourth Generation

JONATHAN DAINS (4), son of Henry (3), was born May 2, 1745; married Mary Greene of Connecticut. He is supposed to have lived in Plainfield, Connecticut, before his removal with his family to Jerusalem, in Yates County, New York. Jerusalem was a large tract (18,000 sq. A.) settled by the Quakers or Friends who were followers of Jemima Wilkinson, known as the Universal Friend. Thirty families came to this locality and immediately named the district, Jerusalem. It included the towns of Benton, Milo, Jerusalem, Potter and Torrey. The year of 1789 was a trying one for the settlers. They harvested a small crop of wheat, but the wild animals had preyed upon it so much that it yielded only a light supply. Some families subsisted for days and even weeks on milk and boiled nettles.

Jonathan Dains, to obtain relief for his family, went to Newton and worked by the day until he had obtained two bushels of wheat which he had ground. He carried this on his back to the head of Seneca Lake, by boat to Norris' landing, and then on his back again to his home near the log meeting-house in Jerusalem. He was an industrious and useful citizen. He had a tannery about forty rods northwest of the Friend's meeting-house. He was also noted as a horse and cattle doctor. He died at the age of 93 years. Little is known of his wife except that she was a member of a group of Friends known as the Faithful Sisterhood.

Children of Jonathan Dains and Mary Groon (Dains):

1. Margaret m. John Weston of Connecticut and lived to be 86 years old.

2. Francis, unmarried
3. Lavinia, unmarried. She came to Jerusalem in 1784 and was an exemplary member of the Friend's family. She once tore the garments from a constable when he tried to arrest the Friend, Jemima Wilkinson. She later lived with her nephew, John Dains, Jr. She died in 1850, aged from 85 to 90 years.
4. Stephen. His first wife died as a young woman leaving a daughter Eliza. His second wife was Rachel Fitzwater, by whom he had several children. They moved to Michigan, where he died at an advanced age. One of his sons was George Dains, who m. 1st Mary Hopkins; 2nd Elizabeth Hopkins.
5. JONATHAN DAINS, JR. m. Nancy McGraw.
6. Mary m. Ephraim Kinney, son of Elizabeth Kinney, a widow with five children. Another of her sons was Isaac, who married Mercy Bates, dau. of George Bates.

CASTLE DAINS (4), son of Henry (3), was born in 1749; married Joanna Barnum in Washington, Litchfield County, Connecticut, December 24, 1772; died November 12, 1842 at the age of 93. His wife survived him. He was a Revolutionary soldier, enlisting in 1776 and serving until the end of the war, at which time he was a sergeant in Capt. Avery's Co., Col. Elizur's Regiment. He was allowed a pension of $80 per annum and 100 acres of bounty land in 1829 for his army service. He came to Jerusalem, New York, at the same time as his brothers and suffered the same want during the year of 1789, when his family existed for six weeks on boiled nettles and a little bohea tea. He was an ingenious mechanic and noted as a horse and cattle doctor. He was famous for curing rattlesnake bite by means of some plant he knew and gathered in the woods. Children of Castle Dains and Joanna Barnum (Dains):

1. Salmon, or Solomon, b. Dec. 26, 1779; left home about the age of twenty-five years, was reportedly seized by the Press Gang in New York and forced onto a British man-of-war. He was never heard of afterwards.
2. ELIZABETH, or Betsy, b. Dec. 31, 1780.
3. Abel m. Clarissa Baker
4. Saloma m. William Torrance
5. Simeon m. Kitty Bellonge and lived in Branchport.

EPHRAIM DAINS (4), son of Henry (3), was born July 4, 1752 in Canterbury, Connecticut, and died in Redford, Wayne County, Michigan, July 7, 1836. He married, December 15, 1789, in Hudson, New York, or in Coxsack, Green County, New York, Irene Steadman, born January 3, 1771, died February 15, 1860, Redford, Michigan. Irene's father was Edmund Steadman, who resided in Jerusalem, New York and received a pension there in 1818. Ephraim Dains left Connecticut and settled with his brothers in Yates County, New York at Pen Yan or at Jerusalem. He was not a Quaker. He was a shoemaker. He was 5 ft. 8½ in. tall. of light complexion, with dark eyes and brown hair. The family came to Wayne County, Michigan about 1830 and settled in Redford. He served in the Revolutionary War and received a pension in 1818. He was buried in the Redford Pioneer Cemetery, and his grave was marked by the S.A.R. on May 30, 1933.

AN EARLE FAMILY REGISTER
Contributed by Louis C. Cramton of Lapeer, Michigan.

Note: Judge Cramton writes that he picked up the following record in an antique shop at Ailsa Craig, near London, Ontario, Canada. It is a piece of nice needlework done in the oldtime sampler style on dark red linen, with white thread, and some embellishments in other colors, framed attractively under glass. It has been placed on file in the Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit Public Library.
